RED-UCATORS at HARVARD UNIVERSITY

This Dossier Is Issued by the National Council for American Education 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17, N.Y.

as part of its campaign to rid the schools and colleges
of socialistic, un-American teachings and teachers.

The accompanying tabulation gives the names of seventy-six (76)
Harvard University faculty members, involving affiliations with 124 communist fronts.

With some three exceptions, each organization cited herein has been officially designated as a communist front by one or more government agencies and investigating committees. Those exceptions, such as the recently-formed National Council of the Arts, Sciences and Professions, are so new that no official agency has had a chance to report on them as yet. They, however, follow the usual communist line, are continually promoted by the Daily Worker, and have the chronic fellow travelers as members.

The seriousness of communist-front affiliations is not to be measured solely in quantitative terms - some communist fronts have been more obviously subversive than others. The dates also should be taken into consideration. Affiliation with communist-front organizations in 1948 and 1949 has a significance which would not necessarily attach to such association in 1933 or '34, for the reason that each passing year has added to public understanding of the sinister character of communist-front organizations.

Inclusion of a professor or instructor in this list is not conclusive evidence that he is a communist. He may be simply naive.

Similarly, this list does not necessarily include all Harvard professors who may be pro-communist. Some of the most malefic and dangerous persons in America are not on any communist front: they are secret members of the Communist Party - sometimes high in its councils.

The greatest indictment against the professorial fellow travelers of the Communist Party is that they lend an air of harmlessness, even respectability, to the vicious, debased movement that is Communism.

Owing to frequent changes of university personnel, the listed title or subject taught may not be permanently correct. They are correct, however, as of press date, March 1, 1949, in accordance with the latest Harvard catalog. Also, some professors may not at present be connected with the organizations listed. In fact, certain of the organizations were of a temporary nature, created for a specific purpose, and are no longer in existence. In each case, however, documentary proof is available as to the affiliation at the date given.

In addition to the professors listed herein, the Council has the record of many other Harvard professors who have been connected with one or more communist fronts. They were omitted from this dossier, because their membership on such organizations occurred some time ago and there have been no indications that they have aided communists recently. In the early days, a person possibly could have been affiliated with a communist front and yet be innocent of any desire to aid Communism. Those, however, who have participated in recent years - since the activities and purposes of these organizations have become so well known - can be viewed with suspicion. Most people will infer logically that when a professor is on several communist fronts, it is no accident - that he knows what he is doing.

This dossier does not include the affiliations of the professors listed herein and other Harvard professors with certain other organizations, some of which are approximately as bad but have not been officially labeled as subversive. Neither does this list include the names of other members of the faculty who extol the glories of Socialism, Collectivism and planned economy, who snipe and sneer at capitalism, and who are unalterably opposed to the American system of freedom and free enterprise.

A few of the names listed here are professors "emeritus." In some instances, these were active professors at the date of their association with the communist fronts. In any case, however, they are still carried in the University catalog and are using the prestige of Harvard to aid communists in their avowed program to destroy America.

It doubtless will be contended that professors have a right to join any organization they wish. That is most certainly their right. But the alumni, contributors to the University, parents of students, and the students themselves, have a right to know to what un-American organizations their professors belong. Also, if graduates and donors feel that because of such participation the professor or the school is not a fit one to support, or parents feel that the University is not a proper one to have their child attend, it is their right to take steps to remedy the situation.
